

Ice Island

By Jimmy, Robin and Wayne - Taipei School in Ho Chi Minh City

Once upon a time there was a dragon that lived on an island. It was called: "Ice Island." Every time when the dragon was hungry, he would kill 100 boys and 100 girls to eat. There was a man. His name was Losato. He wanted to kill the dragon to save the people in this land.

He walked and saw a door. There were a lot of zombies walking to Losato. But Losato was not afraid them, so he killed them all. Now, there was only the door and Losato. The door talked with Losato and the door opened.

In the door, there were a lot of insects that wanted to eat him, but he was very strong, so Losato killed the insects. But the king of the insects said: "You're very strong. Do you want to be my soldier?" "No, I can't, because I have to kill the dragon to save my people", said Losato. "Ok! I will tell you where to find the dragon."

The king of the insects said: "If you want to find the dragon, you must climb over 95 mountains and 56 rivers. After that you will see an island that is made of ice and there is the dragon." "Ok!", said Losato.

When Losato climbed over 95 the dragon was eating people. Losato people." "Only a little person like mountains and 56 rivers, he saw said: "I will kill you to save the you?", the dragon said to Losato.

"Yes, only me", said Losato. "Ok! Now I will kill you", said the dragon and the dragon shot a long fire at Losato, but Losato was not afraid and he took the sword on the wall and he killed the dragon.

When Losato killed the dragon, the people said: "You must go to Mt. Diamonte to get the dragon's head. If you don't get it, the dragon can be alive again." "Ok! I'll get it", said Losato.

About one hour later Losato arrived. He got the dragon's heart and then he broke it. Now the dragon will not live again.
